

Louisiana Department of Natural Resources Performance Building Consulting

- The Louisiana Department of Natural Resources is partnering with The Louisiana Clean Tech Network and Performance Building Consulting to provide a series of RESNET Accredited Home Energy Rater Training Courses
- The courses will be offered statewide over the next few months
- Each course will provide six days of classroom instruction on how to conduct a fully accredited home energy rating as prescribed by RESNET
- On the last day of every classroom training portion of the session the National Rater Certification Exam will be administered by the instructor
- A second week of fieldwork training will follow each classroom session in which attendees will be able to conduct their required training ratings in order to be fully certified under RESNET after the two week period
